

Planning for the 2021 California Environmental Assembly is underway! This annual event, hosted by PCL for over 25 years, will be going virtual this year! Come join us for informative sessions discussing how we can rebuild and improve California's approach to environmental policy.

The focus of the 2021 Assembly will be on Rebuilding California. The 2021 PCL Assembly will have a total of eight sessions with two sessions held a day for a duration of four weeks. The sessions will focus on water, land use and transportation, CEQA and environmental litigation, habitat conservation, and renewable energy. Each session will also include themes on environmental justice and systemic racism. Our goal this year is to engage the audience in helping develop strategies on how to achieve meaning reform in each topic. Some of the panels might also feature keynote speakers, which will be announced soon.

PCL is contacting you to discuss the benefits of attending and sponsoring this critically important gathering.

Over the years, the assembly has been attended by: state and local elected officials and policy staff, NGO leaders and academic experts, key practitioners from the environmental legal community, private sector executives, emerging leaders (students from diverse programs and backgrounds), and myriad community stakeholders.

Your sponsorship of the 2021 PCL Assembly will ...

- Promote meaningful discussions on how California can rebuild after COVID-19 and strengthen its environmental policies during an economic recovery
- Allow us to expand our scholarship attendants program to more college and high school students across the state;
- Give your organization the opportunity to share your environmentally friendly message with activists, lawyers, and policy makers that may not be aware of your environmental work;
- Provide you with invaluable opportunities to forge new relationships with leaders in state, regional and local policy-making and advocacy and learn about emerging policy trends;
- Further your mission and vision with a wider participation from a virtual audience across the state.

PCL needs your fiscal sponsorship of this unique event to allow us to expand our scholarship program even more and ensure that we can sustain through the year the ongoing detailed research, outreach, organizing and educational work tied to our core focus areas: Land Use/Housing/Transportation, Water, CEQA, and Land Conservation and Wildlife.

California is taking the lead on environmental policy in the United States given the roll-backs by the federal administration. We faced many challenges this year, but are still working hard to promote positive change and thoughtful environmental policy. Your sponsorship of PCL brings you closer to the conversations that shape California's environmental and political future. For over 50 years, PCL has guided or influenced all of the most important environmental initiatives in our state, from the Coastal Act to CEQA, and from the Rail Bond to Cap-and-Trade. PCL's initiatives have generated more than $35B in funding statewide for key environmental, sustainability and infrastructure investments. Please make an investment in the future of PCL, California and the world by sponsoring the 2021 Assembly today.

History

Over 55 years ago, PCL was formed around concerns with California's lack of planning around growth. While the economy was booming, air and water pollution increased dramatically, our precious natural resources were not being protected, and sprawling development was committing future generations to expensive infrastructure investments.

In response, PCL helped create a body of laws that mitigated and managed the environmental impacts of future growth. PCL has worked hard over the past decades raising over $25 billion to protect wetlands, floodplains, groundwater, wildlife corridors and agricultural lands from encroaching sprawl and to create urban parks and greenbelts. PCL also helped secure nearly $8 billion for transit developments such as BART, MetroLink and other light rail systems.

Today PCL is focused on efforts that protect our environment, enhance equity for all Californians, support sustainable economic development, and use our tax dollars more efficiently.
