

Charlie Crocker, SVP SaaS Products, Zonehaven Co-Founder

Charlie was the co-founder and CEO of Zonehaven, Following the acquisition of Zonehaven, Charlie is now responsible for scaling world's leading comprehensive critical communications platform that includes evacuation management, multi-channel geo-targeted alerting, and LRAD® long-range voice broadcast systems. He is a data geek and entrepreneur with more than 25 years of experience building teams to bring data out of the shadows and drive business value. Prior to Zonehaven, he built Autodesk's first big data platform team to support migration to subscription and the cloud. He also led product management for Autodesk's flagship AutoCAD product line. Prior to Autodesk he was co-founder in a start-up focused on spatial databases and web-based tools for state and local government agencies and utility companies. Charlie has a passion for growing young leaders. He mentors MBA and MSBA students at UC Davis and California College of the Arts.