

Kamyar Guivetchi, Manager, Division of Planning, California Dept. of Water Resources

Kamyar Guivetchi is the Manager of DWR's Division of Planning, where he works with numerous government agencies, California Native American tribes, other stakeholders, and the public to prepare the California Water plan updates.

Over the last 20 years, Mr. Guivetchi and his team have worked to transform the way the state's Water Plan is developed. Creating a collaborative process that includes about 30 other state agencies, California Native American tribes, and representatives from communities and others.