May 3rd — Day of Giving

Join us today for a Day of Giving!

Consider giving to the Planning and Conservation League and support the work we do to keep California livable, sustainable, and environmental healthy.

Over the last few years, PCL has worked with the legislature to pass major environmental legislation regulating groundwater extraction, establishing renewable energy standards for 2030, and funding environmentally sound sources of new water. And after over a decade of work in Monterey County and at the Public Utilities Commission, the dam on the Carmel River has finally come down and sightings of endangered steelhead heading upriver have been reported! These victories are incredibly important and only a few from the years of conservation work PCL has done. They will improve California’s environmental health and our quality of life over the next decades. This is what the generous support of PCL has done for the last 50 years and, with your continued support, will do for the next 50 years.

We love California, as you do, and with your support we will continue to work the next 50 years to protect it for generations to come.
